The ANNUAL of the STUDENTS of the FALCONER
HIGH SCHOOL

FALCONER, NEW YORK — JUNE, 1945

The Foreword

PHYSICAL Education in schools today is emphasized greatly and rightly so for it prepares the student to enter the future, assured and confident of being both physically fit and mentally balanced.

In the curriculum of Physical Education, there are teams for the various sports. The different classes and clubs, therefore, can be compared to these teams. Thus, the following pages have been arranged in order to resemble a basketball, football, or baseball team, with the teachers as coaches, the students as players, and the main events of the year as the schedule.

To have perfect physical and mental fitness should be vitally important to every one. Any graduate leaving high school realizes that to have a healthy body and mind is of great advantage in gaining desirable jobs, and in being able to compete against others for higher positions.

Therefore, it is now more than fitting that the theme of this book be dedicated to Physical Education, especially since we are engaged in a great war in which being physically fit is most important.

A Special Tribute to Those Who Have Gone Out From Falconer High

to Serve Their Country

WE primed the pump of memory with graduation punch and felt its tingle grow into a sting at that first gush of familiar faces. This one crossed the Rhine that we might cross the street unmolested, that one helped close the Normandy Peninsula that we might close our doors instead of lock them and he, he lay shrinking with malaria that we might expand in knowledge. How Coach used to yell at this one for singing so loudly in the shower, but he's certainly proud of his record on that submarine. Here's one who walked daily three miles to and from school,—never could understand how he did it. He's a sergeant in the infantry now (still can't understand it). And they never knew what it was to fear anything bigger than a history test, never stormed any objective but the Home Economics Department on pastry day, never sustained any wounds save those from football spikes or Mary's hat-pin, seldom aimed at anything but the Frog Bottle in the Chem Lab and usually missed that. Yet Uncle Sam has seen fit to enlarge on these boyhood endeavors: teaching them how to storm a beach, how to treat their wounds with sulfa and penicillin, how to kill. God grant the cause worthy of the transformation; God grant not the concentration of their dreams into single golden stars to burn themselves out in this eleventh hour, but instead the expansion of their dreams on the blue horizon that heralds tomorrow.

DR. GERALD A. WILBER

FOR the past fifteen years, Dr. Wilber has been our supervising principal. There is no uncertainty whatsoever that he has held his position with high esteem and diligence.

The students of Falconer High School and also those who have been previously graduated owe much to him. We have been very appreciative of his indefatigable spirit in furthering our interests, his genial personality and above all his willingness to assist us in solving our problems in working toward our ultimate goal—graduation.

Through his efforts and ability, the school has made wonderful progress in many ways. A great deal of credit is due him for the high standard the school now has.

It is with sincere regret that we learned of your resignation as principal, Dr. Wilber. The students of Falconer High School will miss you greatly and will be thinking of you often in the future. We extend our deepest wishes for happiness in any and all of your future plans.

KATE E. DAVIS

FOR the past twenty-five years, Mrs. Davis, through diligence and hard work, has done a great deal in improving the library and literature department of Falconer High School. Much of the credit is justly due her for our well-developed library system.

Previous to her position in the school, Mrs. Davis managed the affairs of the first public library in Falconer which was at her own home. Later this library was moved to the Community Building where it has since been increased greatly. Being a member of the Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle, Mrs. Davis has steadily broadened her literary knowledge, using this knowledge to extend the progress of the school library. Then, too, many of her summer vacations have been spent at Chicago, studying for further improvement and advancement along this line.

We were filled with regret upon learning of your departure, Mrs. Davis, and we assure you that you will long be remembered by the many students of Falconer High for your ability and willingness to cooperate fully with both students and faculty.

MARY CRITOPH

BEING a person with outstanding artistic ability, Mrs. Critoph has been a decided asset to our school as head of the Art Department for the past nineteen years. During these years, she has willingly rendered her assistance to the Corridor Staff by contributing her ingenious ideas to the art section.

One can readily see that she has made great achievements in the field of art by noting the following. Her art class has designed booths for the Eastern Art Conference at Philadelphia and New York City. She has put on exhibits at the Junior High School Convention in Washington, D. C., the Northern Zone Teachers Meeting Convention, Chautauqua County Fair where her display received first awards and many other individual prizes were awarded to the students. One of her exhibits was sent to Cleveland, to the National Teachers Association Convention, and some exhibits have circulated through the East, South and California.

From a personal viewpoint, Mrs. Critoph has shown unusual ability in her own personal paintings, some of which were displayed at the Albright Art Gallery of Buffalo, in the Western New York State Artists' Exhibit. Each time her work was submitted, it was accepted by the jury as outstanding.

Mrs. Critoph has had the opportunity of studying at the International Summer School of Art and working with internationally famous commercial artists such as Joseph Bender and Emmy Zweybruck.

It is with a great deal of regret that we learned of your decision to leave the faculty, Mrs. Critoph. May you be happy in any and all of your future plans!

PERPETUAL INTEREST OF PRINCIPAL IN F. H. S.

Falconer, New York

Dear Falconer Students, Past and Present:

April 10, 1945

THIS message to you bids well to be a final one from me in the official capacity of your principal. It is always difficult to express one's feelings by little black and white marks on paper but it seems to be the custom to do so. The period from 1930 through 1945 has been a decade and a half in which the Falconer schools have gone through the period of growing up and have now reached their majority. After the opening of the new high school in 1930 there was quite a lot of discussion about dropping athletics particularly football. That hardly seems possible now but it was seriously considered in those days. In music, the band, choir and orchestra were just starting and having a rather rugged time getting instruments and uniforms. Shop and home economics were infants and just beginning to attract students to their courses.

During the years we have had excellent teachers in Falconer. The success of the schools has been largely tied up with the successful efforts of this staff. These teachers have been your friends and have given of their best efforts in an attempt to develop the best possible type of citizenship in you boys and girls. That they have been successful, is evident by the long list of scholarship winners, athletic team winners, music group winners and last but not least, the unsullied records of all of our young men and women in the war. We are extremely proud of the achievements of all these young enlisted men and officers and, regardless of rank, everyone has done his or her part in the best possible way.

All of these good things have been accomplished by perfect cooperation between the administrative officers of your schools, the board of education, the faculty and you students. If any one of these groups had been recalcitrant, it would have shown up by lowered standards somewhere along the line. This same team work must prevail in the future. In the very near future you young folks will be the leaders in Falconer and it will be your civic duty to see that the same relationship continues to exist in your schools then.

Your new principal will do a good job. I have every confidence in Mr. Fenner and I assure you that he is the man for this place. He knows all of your faults and foibles and will start out with a wide knowledge of local conditions. Perhaps he, too, will perpetuate the type of general school organization under which you have lived all your school lives. There will be many changes, of course, but I am sure that Mr. Fenner is imbued with the philosophy of good school administration. His most difficult task will be the organization of a new staff of teachers next September to take over the duties relinquished by those leaving this June. You students can help him here and remember that all of these things will be new to him and to your new teachers. So be patient and the details will work out just fine.

For Mrs. Wilber and me a new type of life looms ahead. We are looking forward to it with keen interest since we feel that the challenge it offers will add the spice and adventure which all of us seek. We know that you young folks will carry on, and do so in the best possible way. We shall return to visit you and shall be pleased by your successes and rejoice with you in your conquests.

The standards of the schools are high but they can always be improved upon. There is always room for change and opportunity for revising and refining of our ways of life. Falconer schools have come of age and we shall look forward to their doing great things in the days of peace ahead.

May the best of all good things be ever yours! In classroom, study, field and track, may you excell. You have definite civic and social responsibilities. Be sure to accept them! May God bless your every effort both as a school and as individuals!

Your friend,

G. D. Wilber

The Dedication

TO Coach Maben C. Cameron who will never be forgotten by the Class of 1945 as a sincere teacher and a loyal friend.

In the year of 1936, when "Cam" first entered upon his teaching career in Falconer a majority of the Class of '45 was attending fourth grade. Thus, for eight years, Coach Cameron faithfully taught us good sportsmanship and kept us physically fit.

It was "Cam" who trained the undefeated football team of 1944, "Cam" who taught us to be good losers when our basketball team lost the Championship by a few points.

The Class of '45 thinks of you often, "Cam", and wishes you all the luck in the world.

In Appreciation of

MARY JANE BUSCH

A NEWCOMER, both in Falconer High and in the field of teaching, Miss Busch has done much toward the furthering of our Physical Education Program. Her cooperative spirit and democratic ideas are disclosed in her willingness to talk things over.

With her patient attitude, Miss Busch has carried out a schedule of events, bringing all the students into participation, making sure that they understood fully the rules and practices of the game.

We, of the Corridor Staff, appreciate very much, the cooperation and help that Miss Busch has given us in working out the theme of this book. In her original ideas, which were unselfishly shared with us, we have found many improvements and additions to our own.

COACH BRADLEY BISHOP

IN his own silent way, Brad carried on where Cam left off, taking the football team through, undefeated, and successfully training our basketball and baseball teams.

Although this has been his first year at Falconer, Coach Brad has made many friends among the students and faculty. In his practice of good sportsmanship, Brad has been an example in teaching the students that to be good sports, regardless of the circumstances, is most important.

Since Coach specializes in Physical Education, he has been able to give us a great deal of aid in the make-up and planning of this year's book. Therefore, we wish to take this opportunity to show our appreciation for his willingness to help.

THE RESULTS OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION

THESE two young men are products of a good Physical Education. In acquiring their physical fitness, they have gained self-control and mental alertness with the co-ordination of their muscles and minds. Therefore with fully developed bodies and minds, they are able to enter the future, fearless, and with confidence of being able to stand equal with their fellow men.

THE VALUE OF GOOD HEALTH

HAVING had a thorough physical and mental education, these four young men reveal in their countenances, success! The sailor willingly serving his country, the businessman, making possible the efficient functioning of large concerns, the doctor, offering his services to people in need; and lastly, the laborer, perhaps the most common, who regardless of his overalls and shovel, is over to stand among the professional men; all of these are confident that their previous training, both physically and mentally, has prepared them to meet, and overcome the many hardships of life.

WHAT LIES IN THE FUTURE?

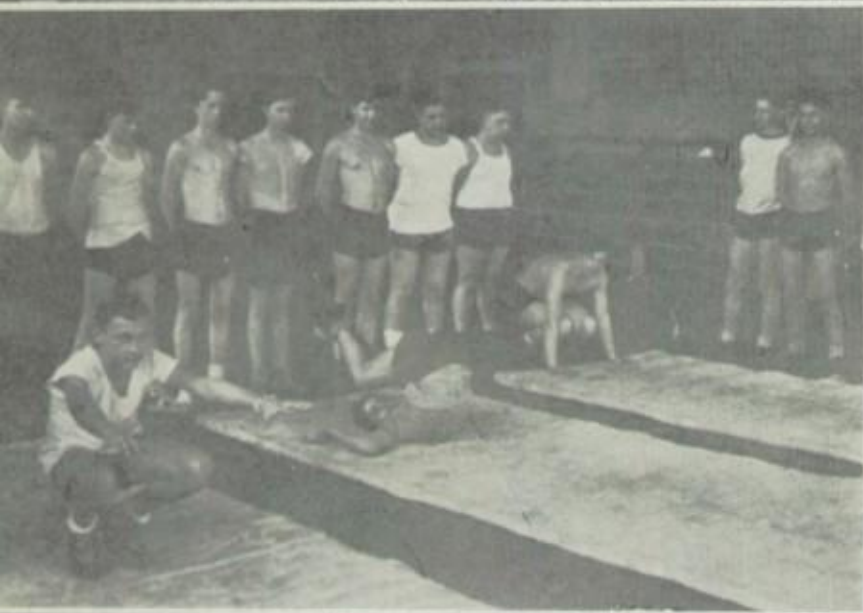

EVERY graduate in the world has the future ahead, and must choose his or her profession. Through Physical Education, these girls have learned poise, which will enable them to face the future with a happy outlook. Their bodies and minds are trained so that decisions will be made quickly and hardships will be borne with grace and fortitude.

A SUCCESSFUL FUTURE

IN a glimpse of the future we are able to observe success in these four different professions due to the mental and physical education received in school. The Nurse, who spends most of her time helping other people; the housewife, who is contented with fulfilling the duties of a home-maker; the business woman, who is able to carry on business transactions while at the same time possesses poise, and equanimity; and lastly, the WAVE, who serves her country—all are physically fit because of their training in High School.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

THE value of physical education does not lie in a pair of satiny blue and gold trunks, an "F" or a banner; it lies in the honest sweat beading Frank Gatto's brow after that Falconer Football feud among the "Seven Hills", in a student ability to add "congratulations" to "you won", in the combination of youthfulness and poise. Incidentally of interest is the declaration of a seventh grader who experiencing gym for the first time this year declares, "I like it because it exercises my bones." A girl in the same grade expresses it more formally, "It gives me confidence and an urge for the great outdoors."

Our "old timer", Joe De Marco points out that, "The physical fitness program has enabled me to prepare myself for the enjoyment of competitive sports after I leave school and has fitted me for entrance into the service, if necessary" and Marge Kennedy advocates it because "It builds you up for future work—gives you pride in your own accomplishments." Dr. Wilber supplies that missing link between gymnastics and the sixteen credits—or should we say the relationship of the physical program to the academic courses by stating: "Physical education has a primary function of preparing young men and women for an active and healthy life after leaving school." However, it has another very definite effect on other aspects of school life beside that of building strong, healthy bodies. This is the function of the art of the habit of obeying directions and doing so alertly and without argumentative discussion.

One of the best things which have come out of this war is the readjustment of youth toward life and its demands for obeying directions. One cannot do what he or she wishes in this life of ours, particularly if there is some interference with the lives of others. Therefore, it is a prime function of physical education to adjust young people to the ideas of "team work" and working together, not for personal glory or grand stand play, but rather for the team and the school.

We might add to this notion the relaxation aspects of physical education and point out how gross bodily exercises relieve the tedium of mental strain and cramped muscles. We might also add that there is no greater "leveling influence" in our high schools than the athletic teams, either varsity or intramural. Everyone stands on his or her own merit and not on family or social position. "If you are good you make the team; if not you sit on the bench."

As we take stock of the benefits from physical education, we take pride in the program which brought them about. With new instructors come novel ideas and—just in case you mistook all that hopping and jumping for Leap Frog every Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, "hear ye": those were Rhythmic movements. The boys weren't exactly playing Tap the Ice-Box either; that was boxing. Both boy and girl schedules "runneth over" with stunts, football, basketball, softball, volley ball, soccer, drill, exercises, dancing and track. Surely good health and posture will follow them all the days of their life and they'll dwell in the heights of clean living forever.

ELSIE A. POTTER

A GREAT faculty addition to F. H. S. during the past five years has been our cheerful, capable, friendly Miss Potter. We who have been her students can truthfully say that we have benefitted a great deal by her style of teaching, for she has developed our interest in world affairs and she has also taught us to "be specific".

Knowing Miss Potter as we do, we can say that she has cheerfully undertaken the responsibilities as adviser of the Mi-Y. A great deal of credit for its success during the past few years is due her. Also worthy of recognition is her advisership to the Senior Class and Honor Society to which she has rendered her valuable service.

Of particular significance during the past two years in F. H. S. has been the Bond Drive that has been administered under the able leadership of Miss Potter. She has worked diligently and with an indefatigable spirit which has resulted in our eligibility to fly the minute-man flag.

We, your friends, will cherish our many happy days spent with you and wish you happiness in your new position, Miss Potter.

ADAH P. REDFIELD

FOR the majority of teachers who are leaving, we can tack a list of acknowledgments on to our goodbyes—specific ways that they have helped us—but Mrs. Redfield is different. You can't lay your finger on appreciation of beauty, the fire in an orator's eye, or the thrill of a Senior Play. You can't say, "Thank you," for the taste of finer things of life which her presence here has contributed. In two years she has won a spot in the student heart! Any member of the Falcon Staff would describe her as the most considerate person they have ever met.

Shall we wish you success, Mrs. Redfield? That's a cold word! How about luck? That's too vague. Let's wish you happiness; that covers everything.

MARY PHYLLIS SOMMERHOF

HAILING from Erie, Miss Sommerhof, who seems to be quiet and shy, is one of our most likable and efficient teachers. Her personality is one which cannot readily be forgotten along with her cheery smile.

We all wish you, Miss Sommerhof, the best of luck in your future plans.

RUTH SMITH

ALL of us are sorry to see Mrs. Smith leave F. H. S. She has taught several years in the North Side, being principal for a year and a half. She plans to return to that position again next year. Our best wishes, Mrs. Smith.

COACHES

NO team can gain success without the aid of cooperative coaches. Therefore, it may be concluded, that much of the success of Falconer High School during this past year is due to the amiable willingness of the members of the Administrative Department to work with the students, giving particular attention and cooperation to the Seniors.

 Advisers.....Mrs. Redfield and Mr. Bennett

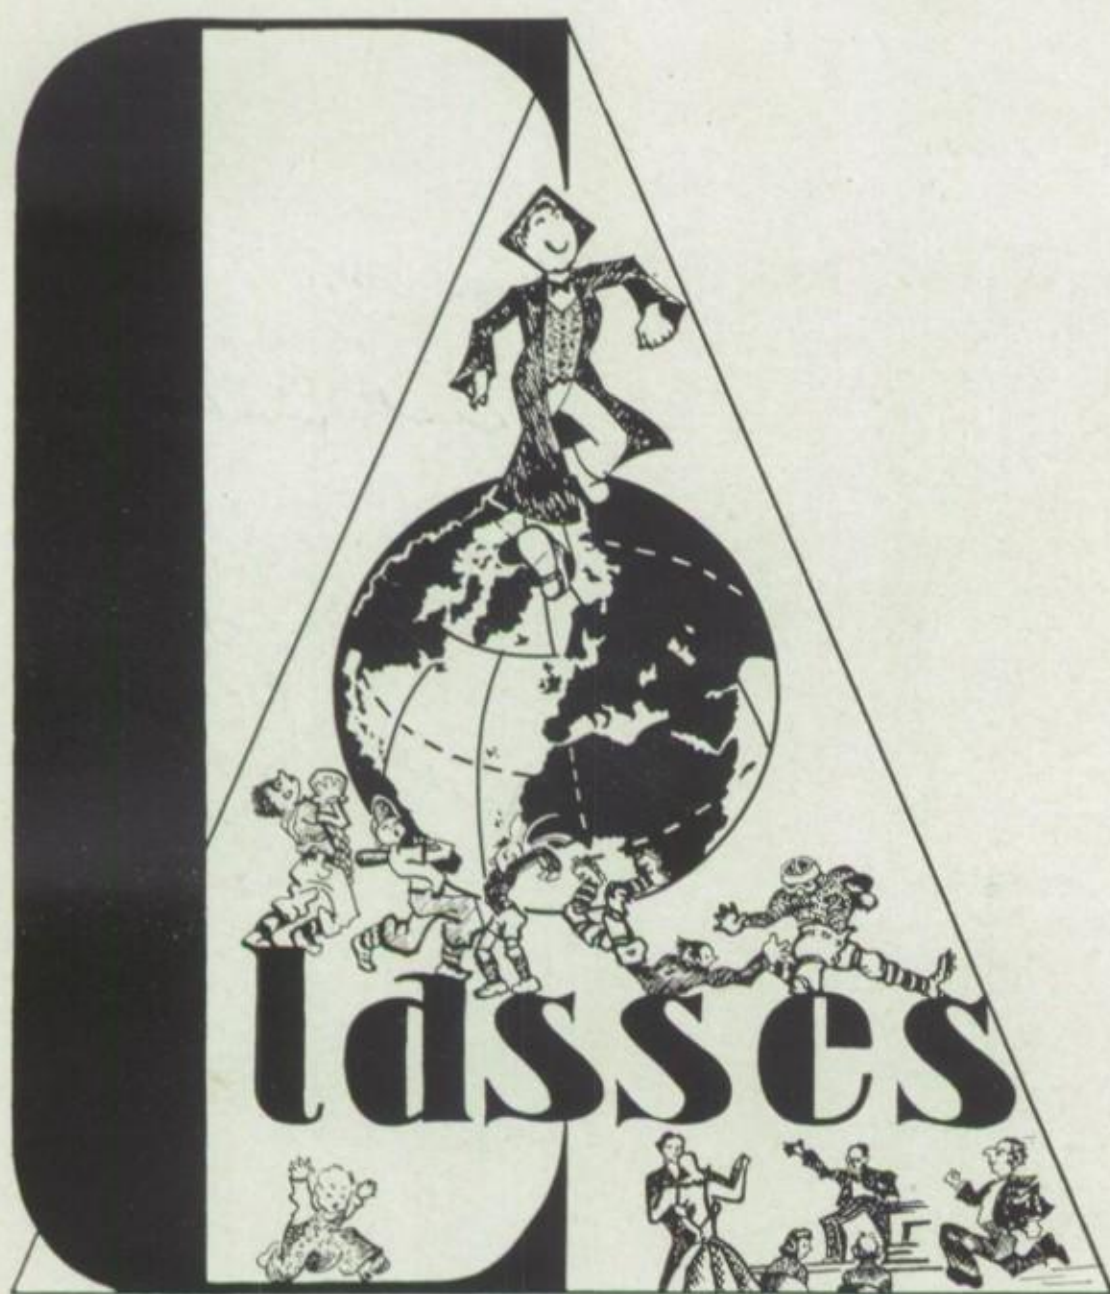

Second Row—Mrs. Redfield, M. Phillips, F. Calloe, G. Hunt, R. Everett, A. Gustafson, Mr. Bennett, L. Clark. First Row—F. Stewart, F. Peterson, P. Whattler, R. Nunn, E. Naslund, J. Culver, R. Denison, M. Seekings.

THE organization known as "The Falconer High School Student Association" is the student governing body. The general purposes of this organization are: to unify all student organizations under one general control; to aid in the internal administration of the school; to foster sentiments of law and order; to promote the general activities of the school; to develop in the student a growing appreciation of membership in a democracy by providing the educative responsibilities of, and privileges of participating in, such a democracy in the school, and lastly, to promote in all ways the best interests of the school.

The Student Council has the power to: make and enforce any rules necessary for the betterment of the school, its life, and interests; grant charters to clubs and organizations; have final decision in matters concerning the extra-curricular activities of the school, recommend the appointment of necessary committees, investigate and report on matters referred to it by faculty or administrative officers of the school, and have charge of all the financial matters pertaining to extra-curricular activities.

Perhaps you would like to know exactly what goes on at a Student Council meeting. First of all our president, Dick Nunn, calls the meeting to order. He then asks Phyllis Whattler, secretary, to take roll and to read the minutes of the previous meeting. After this is done, President Nunn, asks for any old business that needs further discussion. Everyone takes part in the discussion and gives further ideas concerning the matter being discussed. New business that might have come up during the week is also discussed and if necessary voted on. When the business of the school has been taken care of, some one makes a motion that we adjourn at that time; if the motion is seconded, we close the meeting.

The Student Council meets regularly every Tuesday morning first period, unless previous announcement has been made.

TEAMS

WITH our victorious goal of graduation now in sight, we varsity playing Seniors can well appreciate the five years of training which we have undergone in preparation for this main event. Every team, from the Varsity playing Seniors to the scrub-seventh graders is working with ease but determination in view of one goal—graduation.

MAURICE W. PHILLIPS
President

Maurice is the one and only President of our Class of '45. This honored position has been accepted by Maury with modesty and its duties carried out with increasing skill. He hopes to join the Navy upon being graduated. We are with you in your desires and hope to see them fulfilled, Maurice.

JOSEPH G. DEMARCO
Treasurer

Although short of stature, this does not keep Joe from participating and making good in all sports. He has been successful as Captain of the basketball team, and has done a wonderful job as Chairman of the "Roost." Knowing you as we do, we make the prediction of a brilliant and successful future for you, Joe.

MARY SOMMERHOF
Adviser

Miss Sommerhof, a newcomer to our school, has won many friends, as she has gone about her duties as science teacher. Her willingness to assist others and her cheerful attitude are an added attraction to her pleasing personality. We sincerely regret that you are leaving the faculty, Miss Sommerhof. May you be happy in your future plans for our loss will be someone else's gain.

EARL HOENE
Adviser

With a keen sense of humor, Mr. Hoene, who teaches commercial subjects, has won the good-will of his many friends and students. It is obvious that he takes an active interest in sports and is truly school-spirited. The Seniors have enjoyed having you as an adviser, Mr. Hoene, and we wish you happiness in the future.

ROBERT W. ANDERSON

This tall, lanky, ambitious young man desires to be a dairy farmer after graduation—and a good one he'll make too. Bob is often heard discussing present day world affairs rendering his decisive arguments with tact. We send our best wishes along with you, Bob, as you undertake future endeavors.

LOIS BASTIAN

Smiling, joking, talking—these characteristics portray Lois as an indispensable member of the class of '45. With bowling as her favorite recreation during her leisure time, Lois has acquired an enviable record in this sport. Being a commercial student, Lois is planning to attend business school upon graduation which will prepare her for the opportunities of the business world.

JAMES BENSON

Sure you know him. He's that short fellow with the bright yellow suspenders—and best of all—that winning smile. Moreover, Jim is very well-liked by his friends and schoolmates because of his sunny disposition. Upon graduation he expects to become an aviation mechanic. We all know you will be of the best, Jim.

DELORES KOLSTEE
Vice President

Cute, dependable Dee is the member of the Class of '45 who deserves our unvarnished thanks. Dee's loyal participation in school affairs and cordial sincerity towards all have made us realize what a valuable classmate she has been. We hope your dream of becoming a future airline hostess comes true, Dee, for our implacable loss will be their gain.

PATSY NELSON
Secretary

Who is the girl possessing big innocent eyes and a radiant smile? This is our own Patsy and class secretary. When with her, one never realizes a dull moment, for she is always laughing and having a good time. Her friendliness and pleasant disposition have gained her many friends. We are certain that success will not pass her by.

HARVEY C. FENNER
Adviser

Mr. Fenner, F. H. S. Science and Math teacher, is everybody's friend. The Seniors have discovered his versatility, and his readiness to lend a hand in various school affairs. It is to him that we owe a great deal of credit for the success of our "Corridor". The students wish you much happiness and success next year, when you become their new principal.

MARILYN ANDERSON

Although Marilyn is of a quiet, reserved nature, she is a very conscientious worker. Sobriety, modesty, and politeness are but a few of her many valuable assets which help her to make life pleasant for others. With complaints for none and a ready smile for all, great respect is due you, Marilyn.

E. STUART BARNES

"A pleasing personality" are the words that sum up our one and only Stu Barnes. Although he has already answered Uncle Sam's call, he will never be forgotten by his fellow classmates. Stu is one of us graduates for he received a Victory Diploma. Your class sincerely wishes you the best of everything in the future.

LESTER L. BENNETT

Although Lester hails from out of town, that affords no drawback on his ability to attend many of the various school functions and clubs. In becoming acquainted with Lester, we have found that he is more or less quiet and reserved. With the Army as a future we, his fellow classmates, are certain that success will favor him in later life.

DONALD B. BIERWERTH

With flashing brown eyes and a genial personality, Don has proved himself a very worthy member of the Class of '45. He is a truly ambitious person of unbounding energy, who is often seen roller-skating. He has gained many friends in F.H.S. We all wish him the best in his future career, which is undoubtedly prepared for him by Uncle Sam.

ELINOR BLOOMQUIST

Elinor is a worker! Being a member of the Honor Society speaks for itself of her ability to achieve supreme success. Her energetic participation in cheerleading has acquired for her the reputation of being truly school spirited. After graduation, Elinor hopes to continue school and we, your classmates, hope that you will enjoy everlasting happiness.

JERRY C. BONDI

Jerry is an indispensable debater in Miss Potter's history class where his ideas are held in the highest esteem. Besides being able to present progressive arguments, Jerry is also a bit of all right on the dance floor. He does not allow the fact that he is rather short of stature to interfere with his ability to have a good time. Our best wishes are yours for the future, Jerry.

GORDON CARLBERG

A well-built athlete, "Satch" has played an important part in our football team throughout his high school career. His many amiable qualities have won him a number of lasting friends in Falconer High. In following with his High School agricultural training, "Satch" hopes to attend an Ag. College, in which sure success is his.

BERNICE CLARK

This vivacious brunette is our rendition of Lauren Bacall. This fact along with her sparkling brown eyes and cheerful smile undoubtedly attracts those of the opposite sex. However, Bernice may choose a career in the business world in which we wish her loads of luck.

ROSALIE CRAPO

Rosalie in her portrayal of Carol, the invalid, in our Senior play, showed definite talent in the field of dramatics. However, her main interest centers around Home Economics, and upon graduation she desires to P. G. and later attend a Home Ec. College. May your future success and happiness be great, Rosalie.

WALLACE R. FEE

Wally is ready, willing, and able to debate with anyone, on any subject, at any time. Also, beware, because he carries with him a large storage of facts with which to argue. He always upholds the same ideas and ideals. We hope that your desire to join the Merchant Marine is fulfilled. Wally, as we send you on your way with our best regards.

LAURA FRANCIS

Brilliant, efficient and diligent—is our Laura. Her training in Commercial subjects has taught her to cope with problems in a business-like way. Laura's modern outlook on life is revealed by her interest in aeronautics. May our hard-working classmate be rewarded by a deserving success.

GENE BLOOMQUIST

Efficient, cooperative, friendly! These are but a few of the many admirable characteristics which Gene possesses. Through hard work she has obtained a knowledge of business procedure which will aid her in her future ambition to become a successful business woman. She enjoys classical music, especially "The Warsaw Concerto". Best of luck, Gene, in acquiring the position you desire in the business world.

HAROLD W. BUCK

Harold is a sports conscious young man both in participation and as a spectator. He likes aviation and airplanes, and is often attracted by Frewsburg's fairer sex. With the intention of entering into the service of his country, Harold leaves Falconer High School in the best regards of many friends and classmates.

FANNIE CHINCIONE

Fannie is recognized by her mischievous dimples and dark hair. A conscientious student of the Home Ec. Department, Fannie will naturally make an ideal homemaker. Her interest in school activities proves her willingness to cooperate. Accept our best wishes as you enter the pathways of success.

CATHERINE COLBURN

This studious individual likes being out-of-doors, but also working and caring for things indoors. Her desire is to become a hospital dietitian. Catherine is one girl who dislikes brush cuts and bobby sox and swooning over Frankie. We understand she would like to do a bit of traveling after the war. The class of '45 wishes you luck.

ALICE DELAHOY

That short, friendly, blond-haired girl who likes to dance—why that is Alice Delahoy. She usually is seen with her good friend "Vanny". Upon graduation she hopes to do her bit for the war effort. Good Luck, Alice, in the days ahead.

DOROTHY FORBES

Quiet and sweet, Dot possesses the domineering characteristics which have held her in high regard by her fellow-classmates. Her ability to hold Mi-Y Presidency is only one example of willingness to cooperate and assume responsibility. With such distinguished qualities, we are sure the wealth of success will be yours.

LEE R. GALLAHER

Lee's romantic side was revealed in his excellent interpretation of Howard, the color-blind lover in "Pink for Proposals". A mathematical and scientific genius, Lee spends a great deal of his time in the Science Lab. His being a member of the Honor Society gives proof of his trustworthy character, and assures us of his future success in whatever field he chooses to enter.

FRANK R. GATTO

Another member of the Armed Services, Frank also had the perseverance to obtain a diploma before entering. Frank will always be remembered in F. H. S. as the successful captain of a very successful football team. We have missed Frank greatly since he has entered the Services of his country but we are assured that our loss is Uncle Sam's gain.

DORIS GUSTAFSON

Doris is our idea of a gracious individual worth knowing. She has a sincere smile and a cheerful "hello" for all. After graduation she hopes to enter nurse's training or an occupation dealing with the public. We feel that there are great things in store for Doris and take this opportunity to wish her future happiness.

*Doris
Best Wishes
M. and J.*

SHIRLEY HALE

Brilliant and with a surprising sense of humor, we assure you that Shirley's high scholastic record is one to be envied. Her ability to do things well is shown by the fact that she has been a successful editor-in-chief of our 1945 Falcon. In sympathy with her desire to become a chemist, we wish her the best of luck, being grateful for the fact that we have had her as our friend and classmate.

MARY JEAN HALL

A slim, trim, modern edition of a popular girl is Mary Jean. Her keen sense of humor and air of sophistication are added attractions to her pleasing personality. Knowing Mary as we do, with her ability to get things done, and determination to attain final success, we give her our best regards, assured that later life will favor her in whatever field of work she enters.

KATHLEEN HAWKINS

Charming Pat, your over-flowing friendliness has engraved a long and lasting impression which we will always take pleasure to recollect. Pat's main interest and enjoyment lie in nursing and we hope her desires are fulfilled with deserved success. Good Luck Pat.

JOYCE HINE

With a nursing career in mind, practically all Joyce's school work has been centered around this profession. Being one of our active cheerleaders, she has done much to bring out the true colors of F. H. S. Her friendly gestures and warm smile will live as an unforgettable memory in the album of 1945.

ROBERT HINE

As an indispensable member of our Senior Class, Bob has willingly given up a great deal of his time for advancing the sale of War Stamps and Bonds in F. H. S. Enjoying debates, Bob always takes an active part in them. With your aimable characteristics and optimistic outlook, we are sure you'll be a success in life.

GERALDINE JOHNSON

Long known as the "Poet of the Class of '45" this young lady has a natural ability for journalism. Friendly, capable, humorous, are some of the characteristics which made her an asset to our class. To be an English teacher is her ambition and we know she cannot be other than a success in her chosen profession.

RICHARD C. JOSEPHSON

An ambitious, good-natured senior is Dick. He seems to be over-flowing with original ideas. Although his hair is of a true red, we have noticed no outstanding temper during our acquaintance with him. Your desire to be an explorer is typical of you, Dick, and as you have been successful during your High School career, continuation of the same is certain for you in the future.

JOHANN JULL

Taking preparation for a career as a stenographer, "Jo" is one of our ideal business women. When describing our cheerful brunette, we'd say efficiency undoubtedly is one of her outstanding characteristics. Not one to shirk duties "Jo" will ambitiously reach great heights. May you have your share of happiness, Johann.

MARGARET KENNEDY

Possessing an enviable personality has enabled Marge to procure and retain true friends. She participates in school activities and sports with ardent interest. We wish your future life to be filled with prosperity, happiness and complete success.

HERBERT G. LEBURG

This jolly happy-go-lucky senior is often heard to be called "Porky" by his many friends. With an interest for sports Herb has faithfully attended and supported the games in the various sports all-year-round. Just as he has supported his school we know he will support his country by being a good citizen in future years.

RONALD G. LEROY

The solid drummer boy of F. H. S.—that's our Ronnie. He surely can beat the rhythm out with those pieces of wood. Ronnie also takes an active interest in sports and is both attracted to and attracted by the members of the fairer sex. In his hopes to be either a drummer or a mechanical engineer, we wish him loads of luck.

VINCENT LOMBARDO

Breathes there a soul in Falconer High who does not know "Chinks"? If not let's introduce him. To begin with he participates in Band, Orchestra, Choir, Octette and Jazz band. His hobby is collecting popular music, listening to jazz bands and jitterbugging. Upon graduation, "Chinks" would like to organize a band of his own. F. H. S. wishes you success and happiness in your future plans.

"Chinks"

*Best Wishes
in what ever you undertake
"Marge"*

Best of luck always!

ROY LUCE

For his chief recreation, Roy enjoys roller skating. However, his main interest lies in the field of business. Because of his business like attitude, we expect some day to see him as a ranking officer in an outstanding corporation. With your pleasing personality and willingness to help, success will surely follow you in the field which you have chosen.

LUCILLE K. MALM

Speaking of blondes—here's one to remember. Interested and trained in art work Lucille has proven her skill by her part in the arrangement and painting of the beautiful scenery for the Christmas Vesper service. Realizing your ability to achieve paramount success we predict a brilliant future for you Lucille.

BETTIE MOREY

Dignified, ambitious Bettie has talents in many fields. Her writing ability has made her a valued member of the Falcon staff. With a smile for everyone she meets, this vivacious brunette excels in dancing and roller-skating. We cannot help liking her and wishing our classmate the best of everything.

*Good Luck to you
Bettie*

Lots of Luck "Gene"
GENE NILES

Here's a quiet, brilliant girl who gets her studies done with enthusiastic efficiency. Although a newcomer to our class, she has become an expedient member and deserving of our admiration. We encourage you, Gene, to advance into this world of opportunity and accept the success and happiness waiting for you.

RICHARD R. NUNN

Dick is the holder of one of the most honorable positions for which a senior is eligible—the presidency of the Student Council. An all-around fellow, Dick participates in basketball, baseball, and football. He also takes a very active interest in the various school activities and clubs. As a member of the "Stardusters", he gives out with the "solid five", and he will long be remembered by his classmates as a true friend.

GERALD N. OSGOOD

Although quiet and reserved, Gerald is a man of unbounding energy. Already, he has learned to manage a farm, and has done a great deal of work in this field. With this training and practice, he will be able to undertake with confidence his future ambition—to be a successful farmer. As your classmates, we wish you the best of everything, Gerald!

R. GORDON PETERSON

Another honor student, Gordon is a wizard in science and mathematics. His character portrayal of a Nazi agent in "The Brave Shall Serve" proves his dramatic ability. Gordon is very much interested in Geology, and plans to enter into that field of work upon being graduated. With his ability to study efficiently, and to present his material with precision, we are sure he will gain his well-earned success.

DORIS LYON

With an unbounding, gay spirit and welcome laugh, Doris goes about her daily routine with enviable poise. Being a true friend and loyal companion, she is very popular among her fellow classmates. Having recognized her many admirable qualities and amiable characteristics, we assure her that the doors of success are open to her.

ROSE MESSINA

Brilliant! Popular! Dependable! That's our Rose. With the willingness to lend a helping hand to all, she goes about her daily routine retaining a cheerful and optimistic attitude toward life and its problems. Rose, the girl with so many friends, is an unusually active participant in school activities. Your classmates, Rose, predict for you a brilliant future which is none other than what you deserve.

EDWIN N. NASLUND

This tall, good-looking senior is an active participant in football, basketball, and baseball, earning varsity letters in all three. Ed is a good-natured young man who, despite his red hair, retains a very genial personality. Upon being graduated, he expects to enter into the services of his Uncle Sam. Your many friends and classmates wish you best of luck, Ed!

NORMAN L. NORBERG

With a very likeable personality and a good-natured spirit, Norman is always ready and willing to lend a helping hand whenever and wherever it is needed. Norman and his reliable "Ford" are inseparable. Because he is ambitious and energetic, his success as a farmer seems assured.

JENNY OGNIBENE

With a natural specialty of stunning hairdos and flashing dark eyes, Jenny will long be remembered as a valuable member of the Class of '45. Her ever present smile and sunny disposition keep her in the constant good-will of her numerous friends. Because of her ability to make lasting friends, we are certain that success will be hers in whatever enterprise she undertakes.

NATHALIE PATTI

Dark eyed and friendly, Nat is all that is needed for a jolly time. Her excellent dancing ability has made her many friends. Being a student of the Home Ec. Department has given her experience in making a home comfortable and cozy. Nath cannot be other than a success in later life.

JANICE B. PETERSON

This new-comer to Falconer High, Jan hails from Ashville, and being a very quiet and modest individual, one hardly realizes her presence. Jan is a conscientious individual who gets her work done with efficiency. We sincerely hope that your stay in F. H. S. has been as pleasant for you as it has for us.

*Lots of luck
Jenny*

Nat

*Lots of luck to a future senior
Jan*

CLARA M. PIAZZA

With a combination of sparkling brown eyes and shining black hair, it is no wonder that Clara has gained many friends and admirers in Falconer High. Enjoying all kinds of activities, Clara shows a spirit of true sportsmanship. We are grateful for having had the opportunity of knowing Clara and of being able to share with her the many happy memories of F. H. S.

LEE PLANO

Remember Mr. Cranshaw in the Senior Play? This part was played by our own Lee Plano, and he with Aunt Maizi brought forth the laughs from the audience. Remember too, the "special guest" at the spring concert of the band? Yes, Lee is a natural comedian and his being short is only one reason for being a successful one. In his desire to be a pharmacist's mate in the Navy, we are with him, wishing him the best always.

JENNY RIBAUDO

A dark-haired beauty with snappy brown eyes—this is our Jenny. Her sincere attitude and everlasting friendship have proven her to be an indispensable citizen of F. H. S. Her active participation in the choir is a natural result of her talented voice, which, we are sure will carry her on to a successful future in the field of music.

MAURICE ROACH

Here's an ambitious individual who does a bit of printing as a sideline. He is better known as "Hirfa" by his many friends. A very congenial individual, we have found "Hirfa" to be a true friend who is always willing to cooperate fully. When, sometime in the future Maurice becomes a Civil Engineer, his friendly attitude will prove to be a valuable asset.

EVANGELINE SHORT

Regardless of her tiny structure, "Vanny's" energetic ability is certainly not limited. Because of her patience and willingness to make friends, she has been an indispensable assistant in the cafeteria. We know her chosen path will be a success.

ROGER SPRAGUE

This tall lanky senior is an active participant in sports, especially track. His desire and ability to do well designate him as a conscientious individual, who takes advantage of opportunities close at hand. His ready smile for everyone is a decided asset to him, and will undoubtedly be a most important factor in his future life and inevitable success. Our best wishes are yours, Roger.

GORDON STAFFORD

This tall, quiet, blond-haired fellow is better known to our school as "Gordie." In his spare time one would find Gordon hunting or fishing. With his bright, pleasing personality, he is well-liked by everyone. After graduating he hopes to join the Navy. Here's wishing you much luck in your future days as a sailor, Gordon.

GERALD STIMSON

Better known as Stimp, the Class of '45 will never forget this husky, broad-shouldered sailor. A star in football, and a loyal friend, Stimp has won an irreplaceable spot in the memories of his fellow classmates. With his L'il Abner physique, Stimp makes an ideal sailor, and we are certain that with his winning personality, Stimp's future is coursed along the pathways to success.

HELEN SWANSON

Here's a girl who could make any gloomy day turn into a happy one; all that would be necessary would be for her to turn on that sunny smile of hers. Helen, the girl with so much personality, likes attractive clothes and dresses accordingly. Her idea of an interesting future is one that will be in the line of an occupation dealing with the public. F. H. S. predicts an interesting future, Helen.

JOYCE TITUS

Our own Joyce with her dark hair, soft voice and cheerful smile is always ready to do her part and a little more. So many of us have taken advantage of her willingness that we will always remember her. With a unique personality, we are certain that success will be yours, Joyce.

RICHARD WALKER

You've guessed it—that dark, good-looking lad who had a smile for everyone is none other than Dick Walker. You'll find Dick square-dancing when it is at all possible. By the way his hobby is square dancing. Dick's future plans are to own and operate his own farm. Good luck, Dick.

Best wishes Lee

So glad to see you very nice girl

Good luck in the future

Vanny

Good luck

Best of Luck Helen

"Dick"

FOUR YEARS WITH THE CLASS OF "45"

41-42

One of the best freshman classes started in 1941. We all agree with this especially when we think of work (?). In our freshman year, we remember doing about the usual things. To begin with, we elected officers: President—Harold Caswell; Vice-President—Gerald Stimson; Secretary—Edwin Naslund; Treasurer—Joyce Hine. We held the skating party at the usual place—Celoron Park, just average "school kids."

42-43

Our "soph" year started off with a bang and we were all very much determined to make good use of our valuable time. Ronald LeRoy was elected President, with Delores Kolstee, Vice-President and Helen Swanson, Secretary-Treasurer. Square-dancing had become the fad and our dances and skating parties seemed to have been enjoyed by all even though there was an inadequate supply of males. However, we know now that we gained much knowledge by experience which helped us to more ably play our roles as Juniors.

43-44

Becoming Juniors, we felt rather prominent. Here was the year our headaches began. To start our job well, we elected Dick Nunn, President; Joyce Hine, Vice-President; Gene Bloomquist, Secretary; Dorothy Forbes, Treasurer. We were happy to find that so many fellows were learning the art of "cutting a rug." We appreciated the fact that all the kids were supporting our class by attending our dances, theatre and skating parties. Then on a beautiful night in June, the date of that long-awaited Junior-Senior Prom arrived. We enjoyed a chicken dinner and afterwards, we danced to the irresistible music of Pat Norman. The girls made their appearance in lovely gowns and the boys looked sharp in sport jackets with light pants. It seemed like a dream to think that by the next year we would be Seniors.

44-45

How could one help noticing those boys and girls strutting around with brilliant faces and looking so important? Of course they were no other than our intelligent, indispensable seniors. We used very good judgment in our selection of officers. Our capable Maurice Phillips held the office of President; Delores Kolstee, Vice-President; Patsy Nelson, Secretary; and Joe DeMarco, Treasurer. The majority of Seniors were employed part time or on weekends. They proved to be efficient in lessening the acute labor shortage. Then on a cold night in December, the first, the Senior Plays were presented to a capacity crowd. The plays were entitled, "Pink for Proposals" and "The Brave Shall Serve." Due credit is attributed to Mrs. Redfield, director, the superb casts, and the committees for the success of the play. We appreciated the "play supper" treat given to us by the advisors and play director. Uncle Sam seemed to have his eyes cast on the "men" of the class. Frank Gatto, Gerald Stimson, and Stuart Barnes left to join the Armed Forces. We again attended the Junior-Senior Prom as guests, rather than hosts.

The Seniors say "Au Revoir" and the best of luck to all.

ALTHOUGH the year 1948 seems a long way off, it really isn't. The Freshman Class is quite large this year, with 77 members of which 32 are girls and 45 boys. Among their activities this year, was the sponsoring of a roller-skating party. It was a success as many tickets were sold and everyone had a good time. Their advisers are Juliet Anderson and Mr. Bennett, with Bob Hoaglund as President. Here's wishing you success in the years to come, Freshmen!

THE CLASS OF '49

OFFICERS

President Robert Woodard Vice President Fred Crespy
 Secretary Agnes Rumiano Treasurer Arnold Holmberg
 Adviser.....Mrs. Smith

ROOM 101 has been proud of its activities this year for at the very beginning they drew up a constitution for the newly organized "Colin Kelly Club." First term officers included R. Shoup, President; R. Ralg, Vice President; J. Randall, Secretary; and M. Cheney, Treasurer. Second term officers consisted of N. Sprague, President; T. Lindberg, Vice President; J. Randall on the report list as Secretary; and W. Brunson, Treasurer. Club meetings were held every Friday with an interesting program. Hallowe'en and Christmas parties were held, and they achieved a new high in February of 97 per cent in the War Stamp Drive. Mrs. Johnson was adviser.

President Robert Shoup Vice President Ronald Ralg
 Secretary JoAnn Randall Treasurer Marilyn Cheney
 Adviser.....Mrs. Johnson

ROOM 102 believes in variety, for their advisers this year were Mrs. Wilder, Mrs. Alice Smith and Mrs. Ruth Smith respectively. The officers, however, were stationary, being R. Woodard as President; F. Crespy, Vice President; R. Rumiano, Secretary; and A. Holmberg, Treasurer. In the War Stamp Drive the room maintained an above 90 per cent average during the semesters and were very active in basketball and checker tournaments.

THE CLASS OF '50

OFFICERS

President Bard Anderson Vice President Dewane Barnes
 Secretary Laurence Fitzpatrick Treasurer Peter Canaley
 Adviser..... Mrs. Morey

IN Room 103 democracy has been at work throughout the year and Bard Anderson has had the position of President with Dewane Barnes, Vice President; Dean Morley, Secretary; and Peter Canaley, Treasurer. All members of the room have taken part in parties, Red Cross work, the War Stamp Drive, and a spelling bee. They held Christmas and Valentine parties with programs and refreshments. Note should be made of the excellent job they did in the Stamp Drive for the average buying ranged between 90 and 100 percent most of the year. Mrs. Morey is the faculty adviser.

Third Row—M. Beardsley, R. Proudman, A. Gustafson, R. Clark, J. Bloomquist, B. Morey. Second Row—D. Miller, J. Johnson, P. Schoonover, V. Boe, B. Gustafson, A. Wensley. First Row—D. Pope, A. Koliwaske, N. Clark, P. Canaley, B. Anderson.

OFFICERS

President Lois Latona Vice President Robert Crespy
 Secretary Rolland Dickenson Treasurer Joseph Blaze
 Adviser..... Miss Reno

ANOTHER room in which representative government has been at work is Room 3 of which Miss Reno is adviser. This room has a judge and jury, changing monthly, to penalize any offenders. They also have officers chosen bi-annually and President Lois Latona and Secretary Ronald Dickenson have held office both terms. Vice-Presidents were I. Blaze and R. Crespy, and Treasurers K. Johnson and J. Blaze. With the adviser's guidance this room has taken active part in presidential election, debates and various parties throughout the semesters.

Intramurals

JUST as Intramurals are intended to provide practice for and aid the sports player, so do the various activities carried on outside of school give the student a better understanding of and outlook toward life.

Business Manager	Maurice Phillips	Ass't. Business Manager	Burdette Carlson
Advisers	Mr. Fenner, Mrs. Redfield, Mrs. Critoph

THIS organization is concerned solely with editing and publishing the school yearbook. By the hard work and effort of its members, the "Corridor" which results helps to bring back memories of school days in "good ole F. H. S."

THE HI-Y

OFFICERS

President Richard Josephson Vice President Donald Bierwerth
 Secretary Maurice Roach Treasurer Gordon Peterson
 Adviser Mr. Fenner

THE purpose of the Hi-Y Club is "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character." The meetings this year featured speakers, discussions, athletics, social evenings and emphasized business scholarships and clean living. To be specific, the Hi-Y went to the Y.M.C.A. for a swim and took in a movie on another night. At some meetings after the business had been discussed, we played in the gym. Also the Hi-Y and Mi-Y held a joint Valentine's Party.

Third Row—D. Wilson, L. Gallaher, R. Sprague, Mr. Fenner, F. Caffoe, R. Callihan, D. Segerlin.

THE MI-Y

OFFICERS

President Dorothy Forbes Vice President Rose Messina
 Secretary Johann Jull Treasurer Joyce Titus
 Advisers Miss Potter, Mrs. Miller, Miss Thelander, Mrs. Morey

PROMOTING friendship, cooperation, and high standards of Christian character, this organization attains its goal. This year's activities were numerous, consisting of parties, speakers and discussions. The highlights were centered upon the Preliminary Conference at Fredonia and Erie Conference at which delegates are sent to represent the Falconer Mi-Y.

THE HONOR SOCIETY

OFFICERS

President	Lee Gallaher	Secretary-Treasurer ...	Elinor Bloomquist
Vice President	Rose Messina	Advisers	Dr. Wilber, Miss Potter, Mrs. Redfield, Mrs. Miller

THETA XI Chapter of the National Honor Society is composed of students chosen in the latter part of their Junior year by the school faculty. Students are admitted on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Membership is limited to not more than fifteen percent of the class. Special privileges are granted the members. Projects for the library, tutoring students, work concerning scholarships and other matters which are not delegated to any specific organization are undertaken by the society.

Second Row—Dr. Wilber, Miss Potter, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Redfield, M. Phillips. First Row—S. Hale, R. Messina, L. Gallaher, E. Bloomquist, G. Peterson.

Second Row—Dr. Wilber, V. Digirolamo, J. Culver, H. Carlberg, B. Carlson, F. Schell, M. Phillips, Mr. Bennett. First Row—L. Mistretta, H. Swanson, R. Messina, R. Hine, B. Peterson, C. Walker, R. Everett.

THE POLICE COURT

OFFICERS

Chief Roy Hine Judges Rex Everett, Rose Messina
Secretary Barbara Peterson
Advisers Dr. Wilber, Mr. Bennett

THE judicial department of the student body is the police court. It is comprised of a chief, two judges, the police and two faculty advisers. The purpose of the court is to establish student discipline, cleanliness, and honesty. Cases concerning students given tickets are tried each week and sentences imposed upon those found guilty.

THE RED CROSS

OFFICERS

President Rosalie Crapo Secretary-Treasurer Johann Jull
Advisers.....Mrs. Secor, Mr. Bennett

THIS year, because of a greater patriotic feeling among the students, the Red Cross has been a success. In the Junior Red Cross drive, $49.50 was collected and in the Senior Red Cross, $109.01 was received. A great deal of credit is due to Johann Jull and Rosalie Crapo for their efforts.

Second Row—G. Sanderson, M. Giambrone, A. Clark, F. Caffoe, Mr. Bennett, V. Digirolamo, D. Morley. First Row—A. Rumiano, D. Allen, M. Johnson, J. Jull, R. Crapo, N. Josephson, M. Collin, J. Seeley.

THE DRAMATICS CLUB

OFFICERS

President Jenny Ognibene Secretary-Treasurer Lola Leyman
Vice-President Pauline Ognibene Adviser Mrs. Turner

TO achieve the acting ability of many of our popular movie stars, the Dramatics Club is an excellent starter for our many ambitious students. A play written by two members of the club was presented in assembly in the early part of the first semester. It turned out to be a great success for the members were all very enthusiastic. Here's hoping the Dramatics Club keeps up its good work in the years to come.

THE C. C. SCIENCE CLUB

OFFICERS

President Rose Messina Secretary-Treasurer Marianne Collin
Advisers.....Mr. Fenner, Miss Sommerhof

THIS is a recently organized club, composed of students who are interested in various fields of science. In order to be eligible one must have an average of not less than 85% in all science subjects. The club meets twice monthly and the members work on scientific projects.

First Row—Miss Sommerhof, M. Collin, R. Messina, S. Hale. Second Row—F. Caffoe, L. Gallaher, Mr. Fenner, F. Schell, G. Peterson.

First Row—R. Messina, M. J. Nelson, C. Waite, M. VanBuren, E. Bloomquist, M. Collin, F. Larson, R. Crapo, B. Phetteplace.

THE FRENCH CLUB

OFFICERS

President Elinor Bloomquist Secretary-Treasurer Marianne Collin
Vice President..... Marie VanBuren
Adviser Mrs. Miller

THE purpose of the French Club is "to promote better understanding of France and its language and its customs." It meets twice a month when business is transacted, games are played and songs are sung. During the meetings, French is spoken as much as possible.

THE FUTURE FARMERS

OFFICERS

President Richard Walker Secretary Allen Clark
Vice President Gordon Carlberg Treasurer Charles Walker
Adviser Mr. H. J. Shoup

THE Future Farmers of America serves as a medium through which the students of our school interested in farming, may learn proper and better methods of farming. During the past year, they have participated in a poultry show, paper drive and other agricultural activities. They have shown themselves to be truly great farmers worth much recognition.

Third Row—R. Johnson, G. Shure, D. Olson, D. Wakefield, E. Shultz, G. Bastian, D. Wilson, L. Walrod, R. Anderson, K. Burch, B. Mee, N. Ericsson. Second Row—D. Short, K. Sisco, F. Dennison, N. Leyman, M. Ecklund, E. Bloomquist.

THE ACTIVITIES CLUB

OFFICERS

President Eddie Naslund Secretary Vincent Lombardo
Vice President Donald Bierswerth Treasurer Bertha Waith
Advisers Coach Bishop, Miss Busch

THIS club's purpose is just what its name implies—activities, and plenty of them. Meetings, held Thursday nights in the gym, are presided over by President Eddie Naslund. Among their numerous activities are dancing, basket ball, softball, games, calisthenics. Although this club is an excellent example of a student directed organization, there are two advisers—namely, Mr. Bishop and Miss Busch. Sometime during April, the members are putting on a radio show, consisting of the Choir and there are many talented people.

THE SPORTSMANSHIP BROTHERHOOD

OFFICERS

President Jim Culver Secretary-Treasurer Romaine Peterson
Vice President Helen Swanson Advisers Coach Bishop, Mr. Hoene

THIS organization has done its part in everyday life to help each one to become a better citizen. The former president, Stuart Barnes, called by "Uncle Sam", is missed a great deal but the problem of a new president was quickly solved, for Jim Culver was chosen to fill his shoes.

Parties and movies are held to make possible the awarding of medals at the end of the year. Many look forward to these awards for it proves to be a great event. Medals are awarded to the Senior girl and boy who are voted as the best all around sports in the Senior Class.

Second Row—M. Phillips, E. Naslund, Mr. Hoene, Coach Bishop, D. Wilson, R. Hine. First Row—D. Newton, D. Kolstee, R. Peterson, J. Culver, H. Swanson, P. Ognibene, J. Hine.

THE "F" CLUB

OFFICERS

President Joe Demarco Secretary-Treasurer Clara Piazza
Advisers Coach Bishop, Miss Busch

THIS club has been reorganized after having no meetings for two years. Its purpose is to promote school activities, stimulate school spirit and provide major athletic awards, such as sweaters. This year the "F" club has eight members eligible for sweaters.

THE STAMP AND BOND CLUB

OFFICERS

Treasurers Robert Hine and Roy Luce
Advisers Miss Potter and Miss Reno

DURING the past school year, this patriotic organization has done very fine work in the selling of stamps and bonds to support the war effort. Every Wednesday morning, the representatives of each home room take the orders and collect the money. In the afternoon, they distribute the stamps—sometimes bonds.

The Government has given our school a Minute-man Flag for having at least 90% of our students buying stamps or bonds during the month. This group has done a fine job in backing up our boys.

Fourth Row—F. Caffoe. Third Row—L. Pline, R. Fargo, G. Hunt, D. Nunn, J. Culver, F. Schell. Second Row—P. Stone, E. Kelley, B. Gustafson, I. Potwin, G. Johnson, M. THE BIBLE STUDY CLUB

OFFICERS

President Catherine Colburn Secretary-Treasurer Rita Fadale
Vice President Marilyn Dahl Adviser Miss Reno

A MEETING is held every week for the purpose of learning parts of the Bible and studying together. The class is headed by Miss Reno. It helps the students to become better citizens and joins them in Christian Fellowship.

THE ORCHESTRA

OFFICERS

President R. LeRoy Secretary M. VanBuren
 Librarians J. Newton, M. Latona Director Mr. Ortolano

THE orchestra's activities this year were confined to the Alma Mater because of war-time restrictions making impossible county and state county contests. However, the orchestra can claim a splendid performance in the annual spring concert held March 2—besides furnishing musical highlights for various other programs throughout the term.

OFFICERS

President Herbert Carlberg Secretary Marilyn Ecklund
 Librarians Joyce Hewes, Margaret Shoup, Virginia Clark Director Mr. Ortolano

AND the band played on—on what? Well, on Memorial Day, on Fridays, on election rallies, on the football bleachers, on the concert stage—just on and on! And there's something about the beat of a drum that makes our hearts skip a beat; something about the toot of a trumpet that's made our tutors forget second period many times; something about the flight of a flute that gives us wings. Oh, there's something about our band, kids, that is fine, fine, fine!

THE GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

OFFICERS

President Alberta VanTilburg Librarians... Josephine Alessi, Sally Brown
Secretary Ruth Randall

THE Girls' Glee Club meets twice a week the first period in the morning. The girls sing popular songs and pieces in three part harmony under the direction of Mrs. J. Anderson. They will act as ballet chorus for the television show.

THE CHOIR

OFFICERS

President Louis Adler Librarians Vincent Lombardo,
Vice President Bertha Waith Eddie Naslund
Adviser Mrs. Juliet Anderson

IF some of you have wondered where those beautiful voices were all coming from on Thursday mornings the answer is it is the F. H. S. Choir at their regular rehearsals. In addition to having a Quartette this year, we are fortunate in having a Double Octette also. The Octette has sung on numerous occasions for the school and also for outside organizations. During April the Choir is putting on a radio show with Louie Adler and "Chinks" Lombardo as toastmasters. In it will be featured such numbers as solo dances and vocal solos. The "Stardusters" will furnish popular music. Under the direction of Mrs. Juliet Anderson, it is certain to be a success. It is to her that we owe our appreciation for her patience and willingness to work with us.

THE JUNIOR CHOIR

OFFICERS

Adviser Mrs. Juliet Anderson

THE Junior Choir is a vocal organization of Junior High students. It has been singing for various organizations which include: North Side P.T.A., South Side, Rotary Club, Victory Club and Methodist Church.

Second Row—J. Blaze, D. Morley, P. Canaley, L. Pline, B. Anderson, P. Mason, R. Dickenson, R. Caffoe, K. Johnson. First Row—E. Kelly, C. Hale, M. Cheney, D. Peterson, R. Webster, L. Frederickson, B. Meadows, F. Stuart, J. Morley.

First Row—L. Gallaher, R. Nunn, V. Lombardo, R. LeRoy, H. Carlberg, R. Hudson, R. Trummer, L. Anderson. Standing—F. Caffoe.

THE STARDUSTERS

OFFICERS

Leader Vincent Lombardo
Treasurer Frank Caffoe
Business Manager Richard Nunn

THE "Stardusters" as the members call themselves is a new endeavor of the F. H. S. students. Playing for noon social hours, school dances and at the Recreation Center makes up most of the program of the Band. Since the picture was taken, some changes have been made. Donald Anderson now plays the alto-sax and Robert Trummer, who was the leader has left. Vincent Lombardo now wields the baton. It is one of the most popular organizations in the school and has a promising future.

THE MAJORETTES

MAYBE you've noticed an increase in the number of baton twirlers this year—oh, there have been four new ones added. They are Donna Peterson, Lois Latona, Jenny Fonti, and Joyce Morley. They were chosen from a group of about 12 prospective candidates. Both old and new ones twirled at the Jamestown game, and Band Concert, and for various other occasions. The four new ones have snappy looking uniforms which are blue taffeta jumpers with white blouses. The old faithfuls, Barb, Lola, and Marilyn, also have new outfits. Theirs are blue velveteen trimmed with gold sequins. All in all they are really an important part of our Alma Mater.

Second Row—J. Fonti, J. Morley, L. Latona, D. Peterson. First Row—M. Ecklund, B. Peterson, L. Leyman.

Second Row—L. Petersen, D. Allen, M. Latona, P. McCall, J. Alessi, J. Newton. First Row—J. Hine, E. Bloomquist, R. Peterson, M. Kennedy.

THE CHEERLEADERS

DURING the year, our cheerleaders have done much to enliven our school spirit. Their new cheers have added pep to our games. Furthermore, the Booster Club, led by the cheerleaders, has provided a good cheering section for all our contests and no doubt deserves some of the credit for our undefeated football season.

THE JUNIOR HIGH SOCCER CHAMPS

ALTHOUGH soccer is perhaps not quite as popular as basketball or softball, everyone who plays it becomes interested because it demands so much in alertness and activity. The "Falcons" and the "Falcon Yankees" proved themselves capable in the sport also, by defeating their opponents.

BECAUSE it is a fast, clean game which requires thought behind every play, basketball is thoroughly enjoyed by all members of F. H. S. The "Falcons" and the "Falcon Yankees" of the Senior and Junior High respectively, surpassed all others in a fair and competitive manner.

THE GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL

GIRLS' intramural tournaments are played annually although this year, unlike previous years, the girls chose their own captains and selected their own teams and names. Many times we have heard over the address system announcements of games between the "Falcons" and the "Flying Eagles", or maybe the "Hellcats" and the "Spitfires". During the fall and winter, Soccer and Basketball were played respectively with Volleyball coming in the spring. A very successful and enjoyable year was ended with the favorite sport of Softball.

GRADUATION TIME IS PHOTOGRAPH TIME

Graduation photographs do not seem important to you now; but—in years to come, you will treasure them more and more. In fact, many former graduates who didn't have theirs taken, have repeatedly stated that they wished they had a Graduation Photograph of themselves.

Graduation time is the ONLY time these photographs can be taken. So that there will be no regrets, phone 56-133 for an appointment or stop in and see our samples.

LIFE IN F. H. S.

FALCONER High is not a school; it is a home. Twenty-three parents serve seven meals a day and no use asking them, "what's cookin'" either! Yes sir, twenty-three and 500 students—twenty-one and seventeen twenty-thirds off-springs apiece. Hmm, now I know why they're so many half-wits! Getting back to the food, it is served buffet style in 25, 27, 22, 26 and various other rooms whereupon, it is carried to 24's large dining-tables. As expected in such large families, survival of the fittest reigns. Some severe cases of "in-detention" and "collar-burn" have been developed, but no fatalities reported as yet. Moreover, those robust individuals with the cast iron stomachs leave the dining room satisfied and "rarin' to go."

Architecture suffered a set-back during that period around 1930 and engineers forgot to remember the bedrooms for F.H.S., but did that trouble our resourceful family? Quicker than Dick Nunn could say, "Joyce Hine", they converted 23 into an air conditioned slumber-center complete—with chaperones who switch every hour on the hour to prevent monotony.

Moreover, since all work and no play makes for bad boys and girls, we dedicated a portion of our house for a recreation room where gay young things may flit and fling to fancy—chinning bars to keep their "chins up" and exercise to keep everything else down.

Due to popular request, no peering pioneers glare down on us from the walls. But so revered are they that we keep their very names under glass by the great front door. By the way there seems to be about the place where brotherly love may appear too potent to some. If so, check it to the friendly atmosphere, or "As You Like It". We like it because F.H.S. is not a school; it is a home.

"ROOST"

Do you students of Falconer High recall that during the first part of the school year, a certain group of students were doing their best to obtain some place in which we could have a recreation center? Well, you all should, and now that we do have it, how about a little inside information on it. To begin with, our rec center, better known as the "Roost", is located in the large hall on the second floor of the Community Building. In order to get it well organized, the student body elected Joe Demarco as chairman with Eddie Naslund and "Chinks" Lombardo as co-chairmen. Through the cooperation and aid of the Rotary Club we now have a Juke Box, refreshment stand with a painted blue and gold FHS on it, ping-pong table, card games, and a coke container. The "Roost" is open on Friday and Saturday nights and also when there are games. Now, as long as we have told you about its organization and the facilities we have, how about being little mice with the Corridor Staff, and peek in on an eventful, hilarious, evening's program. First, as we enter this great hall of music and fun, we hear none other than the "Stardusters" playing their favorite rendition of "Boogie Woogie". Good old FHS certainly does have more than its share of jitterbugs, doesn't it? By the looks of the couples dancing, one might get the impression that there is a man shortage. But that's not true—for our able-bodied men just haven't got on to the knack of "jitterbugging". It's not that they couldn't if they would try, but they have trouble keeping up with the music. Notice though, there are some fellows over in the farther corner who are trying their best to catch on. Good Luck!

Is that food we smell, or are our smellers deceiving us. Oh, yes, the refreshment committee's serving hot dogs, along with potato chips, cokes, pop, and cheese-sandwiches. Must be the music tempo has changed as there certainly are a big number of fellows dancing now. Look over here—those two inseparable Junior girls are just getting in the groove when they're cut in by—well, you guess for yourself. We'll tell you one thing though, the girls are Bert Waith and Barbara Peterson.

If you look around a bit, you're liable to see a few strange faces—yes they're from out of town, mostly from Jamestown. There is one tall, light fellow who seems to have a keen interest in Pauline Ognibene. Well, I think we've covered most everything tonight—oh wait, there must be something else coming up. Could it be a floor show? Yes sir, that's just what it is. In case you're wondering who the announcer is, we'll inform you that he is one of the trumpet players, Dick Nunn. If any of you girls are interested, ask Joyce Hine. It looks as though the first number was going to be a piano solo by the jazz band's pianist, Lynette Anderson. Very good, Lynette, and now comes a tap dance by Rose Marie Lopresto. Well, we haven't time nor space to ramble on much longer but a song by a trio, drum solo, vocal solo, and a comedian act brings us to the end of tonight's "Roost" program. But thanks for being nice with your Corridor staff—did you enjoy it?

John Schwartz

ON the way back from a trip to Texas, we stayed at White City one night. It isn't much of a place, considering its name. All there is to it is about seventy-five to a hundred cottages, a gas station, a restaurant, and a few small buildings. That morning after breakfast we were standing outside when the gasoline attendant approached us. He asked us if we had been down to the spring to have a drink of water. We hadn't so we went down to get one. The word was spread around and soon everyone was going down to the spring. It turned out that "The Spring" was only an old automobile spring in a box.

Lois Dunning . .

WE had been making paper masks in art class, and I had mine nearly completed. When one day later, I went down to class and I happened to look in the cupboard where I had left it to dry, I noticed something odd in its appearance. On second glance I noticed a mouse had enjoyed a hearty meal off the nose, mouth, and eyebrows. The worst part was that the mask had been remodeled only three times previously because of damage done to it. "If it is not man, it has to be mouse", was Mrs. Critoph's solicitous comment.

1. Scene from "The Brave Shall Serve" (Senior Play). 2. "Rose Marie" and "Bart" at the "Roost". 3. Winners of the Oratorical Contest. 4. Roy and Joe behind the stand at the "Roost". 5. Alumni Servicemen at a Basketball game. 6. Devilishness in the Corridor. 7. The Brave Shall Serve (what again!). 8. Our Old Friend, Sam Digi. 9. Marge Kennedy in "Pink for Proposals." 10. "Chinks" and "Dee" (Huba! Huba!). 11. Mr. Bennett, doing his bit at a game. 12. Just a "gang" putting up scenery for the Senior Plays. 13. Oratorical Contestants. 14. Good Ol' "F. H. S." 15. RADIO SHOW

SOMETHING new in the form of entertainment in Falconer High School was presented in April by the Choir and Glee Clubs of the school—a Radio Show, complete with announcer, commercials, orchestra, choruses, dancers and comedians.

After the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" Maurice Phillips, the announcer, gave the station identification—station F.L.O.P. and gave a commercial for the Peter Pan Beauty Salon. The chorus accompanied by the "Stardusters" Orchestra sang "There Goes That Song Again" after which an important news bulletin stating Hitler's death was read. To comply with the news, the Glee Club sang "This Will Be My Shining Hour" accompanied by Lynette Anderson at the piano. The F.H.S. Rockettes danced to the number. However, as found out after the number, the bulletin was false—Mrs. Hitler had killed a rat in the cellar and the news had been misinterpreted.

There was more music to which Rose Marie Lopresto and Geraldine Ceresa did solo dances. Later in the program, a melodrama, "John's Other Life" was presented with Richard Nunn and Margaret Kennedy playing the leading roles. The Barber-Shop quartet composed of Eenie, Meenie, Minnie and Mike next gave out with a medley of old favorites. In reality, they were Robert Hoaglund, Lee Gallaher, Maurice Phillips and Frank Caffoe ably directed by Vincent Lombardo. The audience had a prominent part in the next part of the program. A honeymoon couple was interviewed by the emcees to the delight of everyone and the embarrassment of the couple.

A real trolley was used for the "Trolley Song" number with Eddie Naslund, Lee Plano, Mary Jane Nelson, and Janet Chase sharing the seats. After more musical numbers by the choruses and the double octette, the finale, the real climax of the program was presented. A poem, "Ballad of Bataan", was read with the choruses breaking in singing the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" with sound effects and majorettes. With the entire company taking part, it made a fitting end to an excellent program.

SENIOR PLAYS

THE class of '45 enjoyed the experience of making the annual event in Falconer High another traditional success. Regardless of the depth of snow, every one came to the darkened auditorium to see the budding actors and actresses give a brilliant performance in both plays entitled, "Pink for Proposals" and "The Brave Shall Serve." The former name tells the story in itself, for in that household of women each was after a marriage license and when one accidentally tripped upon an article which read the color pink would do the trick, the climax came with a decided "red pastel" rush in wardrobes. Remember, though, in '44 and '45 that increasingly evident man problem? And remember how typical the second play was which dealt with the war and Fifth Columnists? What all-American patriots were portrayed in that tense drama that brought the audience so much suspense! Yes, both plays were very outstanding, and credit goes to all participants and to Mrs. Redfield for her sincere and steadfast directing.

Congratulations to the Class of '45

CAN YOU IMAGINE?

Joe De Marco without his "Muscles?"
Phyllis Whattler getting a zero?
Clara Piazza without her long black tresses?
The library without the usual loafers?
Dick Josephson not liking to argue?
Sally Brown or Rose Messina without their idol—Frank Sinatra?
Miss Potter without her "specific clause?"
F. H. S. without cliques?
Johnny Bardo without his "C. I. O." eyebrows?
Jenny Ognibene being quiet?
Stuart Barnes being bashful?
Lester Bennett a wolf?
"Duffy" Anderson a city-slicker?

BOND AND STAMP DRIVE

SOMETIMES it's love of person, sometimes love of country, and sometimes a combination of both that induces and encourages us to buy bonds. And because of that inseparable, and subconscious bond between brothers and sisters, parents and their sons overseas, we are more than willing to buy the bonds to bring them back to their homes and under the government for which they are fighting. It is the bond between the students of F.H.S. and those who have graduated and gone into the service. Perhaps it was because of this bond that our school of over 500 did even more than a few of the larger schools in the Bond and Stamps Drive. It was definitely because of this "tie" that we raised our Minute-Man Flag in February for having a month's average of 90 per cent or more.

Our Robert Morris Committee and Paul Revere Committee have worked constantly and with untiring effort, so to them, to Miss Potter, and Miss Reno, to the cashiers Robert Hine and Roy Luce, and the messenger boys George Brakeman and Albert Edstrom goes the credit where credit is deserved. An excellent result was accomplished and it made our school "tops" in the district.

"GOODBYE" OR "FAREWELL FALCONER"

THERE is no proven way to say goodbye;
All etiquette and form are cast aside
The heart reaches the throat, yet cannot pry
Its way out of the mouth in verbal tide.

Goodbye is feeling all that has been felt—
It is comprising all that has been prized;
Goodbye is trumping after all is dealt—
It is reviving things never revised.

And so we shake the patient, guiding hands
Changing our views from teach me to I've learned,
And saying each, "goodbye" break off the strands
That sewed living to life—esteem to earned.

It is knowing you
Evelyn. Hope next year will be pleasant
too. — Ed. Potter

Evelyn.
You have been a wonderful kid and I hope you have as much fun as I next year. Good luck
Jenny.
